Dear Parents,

SNACS stands for Special Needs Activities and Community Support. Quebec High School and the community Wellness Centre (co-managed by Jeffery Hale Community Partners) work in partnership to run the SNACS After-school Program.

This program offers a safe and structured environment to special needs and at-risk students before and after school hours, allowing parents to continue to work regular hours with peace of mind. Students take part in stimulating educational activities, and it is also a great opportunity for them to keep up with their homework and improve their academics.

Parents must register their child for the year by filling out this registration form (on page 2) that you can also find on: wejh.ca/programs-and-activities/special-needs-activities/after-school-program.

You can choose one of two options are available:

1. Full-time participation – If you choose this option, your child can attend the After-school program up to five days a week. The cost is two payments of $200 in November and March, which equals $2.35 per day.
2. Part-time participation – With this option, your child can attend up to two days a week. The cost is two payments of $150 in November and March, which works out to be $4.40 per day.

You can make a payment by any of the following ways:

- Online using a credit card on this web page: wejh.ca/snacs-online-payment
- A cheque made out to Jeffery Hale Community Partners and mailed to 2000-1270 chemin Sainte-Foy, Québec, QC, G1S 2M4

We hope you will make use of this service. If you are having trouble paying the fees, please do not keep your child from attending the program; talk to me, the school or your child's social worker.

For all questions and concerns, please contact me by email at knadeau@jhparkers.net or by phone: 418 572-5009.

Yours truly,

Kate
